Milliman awards 16 Opportunity Scholarships in the program's third year

SEATTLE – AUGUST 12, 2019 – Milliman, Inc., a premier global consulting and actuarial firm, is pleased to announce the recipients of this year's Opportunity Scholarship program. This scholarship program, now in its third year, was created to assist students from ethnic groups and races that are under-represented in the fields of actuarial science, data science, computer science, economics, programming, mathematics, statistics, data analytics, or finance.

This year, the Opportunity Scholarship recipients include 16 students from colleges and universities across the United States, Australia, and South Africa who have demonstrated academic excellence and plan to pursue a career in actuarial science or related fields. Many of the students have achieved academic success amidst financial and personal hardships.

"Actuarial science, mathematics, and similar areas of study benefit when students from diverse backgrounds and perspectives contribute to the field," said Milliman Chief Executive Officer Steve White. "Milliman is proud to provide assistance to this year's recipients, with the hope that it can be a step toward expanding ethnic and racial representation across actuarial and STEM industries."

Below is the list of this year's Scholarship recipients:

1. Aleesha Chavez, computer science, at Northwest Nazarene University (Idaho)
2. Caroline Glazier, actuarial science at University of Michigan (Michigan)
